ABOUT THE BOOK

Are you going to study, work or live in an English-speaking country and need to expand your daily English vocabulary quickly?

"EVERYDAY ENGLISH: 556 COLLOCATIONS WITH PICTURES" is a great way to achieve this goal! The book presents common word combinations that native speakers use every day in different social situations: working in an office, communicating with teachers and classmates at University, socialising with friends and colleagues, consulting doctors about health problems, reporting emergencies, exchanging news, describing troubles with a flat/apartment or a car, doing exercise with fitness instructors and dealing with a lot of other practical affairs every day.

All the collocations are grouped by 40 topics people talk about daily. Each collocation is illustrated by a picture so that learners could understand its meaning and remember it easily.

For levels from elementary to intermediate.

About the author

I am a CELTA qualified English teacher. I have a passion for spoken English and run a Facebook page for learners of conversational English:

<https://www.facebook.com/english.like.native/>

I am also an author of an e-book called "Spoken English in dialogues" for levels from elementary to intermediate.

HOW TO USE

Each collocation is illustrated by a picture so that learners could understand its meaning.

The verbs in the collocations are given in two forms: a present form and a past one, except for the verb "to be", which is given in its basic dictionary form.

Give/gave up one's seat

1. He always gives up his seat for the elderly on the Tube.
2. She gave up her seat for a pregnant woman on the bus.

Be in a hurry

1. He is in a hurry to get to work.
2. I was in a hurry to catch the last train to Paris.

There are two example sentences for each collocation. The first sentence is in the Present Simple, which is used to describe habits, repeated actions and general truths. The second one is in the Past Simple, which is used to describe actions and states in the past.

The book also presents some phrasal verbs, which are common in spoken English. Phrasal verbs are a combination of a verb and an adverb or a preposition. Using them makes your speech much more like that of a native English speaker.

Epilogue

Continue to learn English with my e-book called "Spoken English in dialogues" for levels from elementary to intermediate.

It is a collection of the most common sentences used by native speakers in everyday life. The book covers topics such as meeting new people and making small talk, dating and visiting friends, emergency situations and doctor's appointments, car and flat rental, staying in hotels and traveling by air, shopping and bargaining.
